About Kellie

Kellie Taylor is a 17-year-old Boulder County resident, who has a rare disease called Sanfillipo Syndrome. Sanfillipo Syndrome is a genetic flaw resulting in a lack of one enzyme. It causes a buildup of cellular waste that kills cells and clogs major organs and joints, leading to death when those with the disorder are only in their teens.

Kellie has been practicing Iyengar Yoga to help maintain her structural alignment in hopes that she will never have to use a wheelchair. She is easy-going, hard-working, determined, smart, and strong – and beautiful! She handles her disease with ultimate grace. Learn more about Kellie at <http://relevantstories.org/stories/kelli>

There is no treatment or cure for Sanfillipo Syndrome, but thanks to generous support, a new drug is now in early trials. Her family and friends hope that Kellie will benefit from future access to treatment.

What --- The Denim Dash is a fun, family-friendly afternoon that helps raise much-needed funds for TeamSanfilippo (seeking a cure and/or treatment for Sanfilippo Syndrome), and Global Genes (raising global awareness and lobbying on behalf of those with rare diseases).

When --- Saturday April 22, 2017; gather at 12:00pm, walk 12:30-2:00, after-party 2:00-4:00pm

Where --- The Post Brewing Company, 105 W. Emma Street, Lafayette, CO

Proceeds from the Virtual Denim Dash 5K will go directly back to the rare disease community through Global Genes' RARE Patient Impact Grant Program. The funds you raise will go directly into a program that positively impacts the rare community.

Once you register, you will receive a dash packet including the following:

- Dash T-Shirt
- Dash Bib & Safety Pins
- Medal (to the first 750 registrants)
- Blue Denim Genes Ribbon to wear on your shirt
